THE TABLEAU.—Our readers have had before them for some days the programme of the entertainment to be given at Masonic Temple on next Wednesday evening. An explanation or description from us of the scenes, etc., would be useless, as some of the tableaux are from amongst the most beautiful and interesting pictures known, and are therefore familiar to nearly every one.

The ladies will be certain to obtain their rights on this occasion, or at least, they will witness a scene of what some of the fair sex call "woman's rights," and it is a good prospect, even in the eyes of the ladies, notwithstanding the contrary opinion of the sterner sex. A diagram of the hall can be seen at Faulstich's music-store to-morrow, and we give due notice to secure seats, as the number of tickets is limited.

IMPORTANT CAPTURE.—It has long been suspected that parties in this city have been dealing very extensively in the morphine and opium business, purchasing their stocks at Cincinnati and smuggling it through the lines to the rebels. On Monday morning a dispatch was received from General Burnside at Cincinnati, to the authorities in this city, stating that it was generally believed that this smuggling business was carried on pretty extensively, and to watch the movements of certain parties.

One of our United States detectives, a few days ago, went to the City Hotel, on Fourth street, kept by a man named Schell. He arrested Schell and a partner in the business named Griffith; then searched the house, and found one hundred ounces of opium and twenty-five ounces of morphine, amounting in all to about fifteen thousand dollars' worth of drugs. It was found upon the roof of the house. It is believed that Schell bought the stuff and Griffith smuggled it through the lines. Both the men were taken to Cincinnati and identified by the druggists as being the parties who made the purchases under assumed names. They will be tried in Cincinnati next week.

We learn that some little excitement prevailed along the line of railroad a short distance this side of Nashville yesterday morning, in consequence of a report being in circulation to the effect that about one thousand cavalry had crossed the Cumberland, in the vicinity of Hartsville, the night before, and contemplated an attack upon the railroad. The passenger train which left Nashville yesterday morning, after feeling its way for some distance this side of Nashville, came on through, and arrived last evening with a big trip of passengers.

THE CITY.—We are inclined to the belief that never before in the history of this city has it been so quiet, orderly and peaceable as it has during the past week. Yesterday was another warm day, but duty duty—destined of interesting news. It was even too warm to admit of ramblers, which were not permitted to shut about the streets. Business was as usual—we did not hear of anything extra being done in this line. Everything passed off peacefully and quiet.

HORTICULTURAL.—The first annual meeting of the Horticultural Society met yesterday in the Masonic Temple. The display of fruits and flowers was not very large, but was very excellent. The bouquets were splendid. We were sorry to notice so small a crowd of ladies and gentlemen present. However, there were quite a congregation present, who seemed pleased with the exhibition. Everything sold at fine prices.

MR. W. WYATT.—The undertaker on the corner of Seventh and Jefferson, has in his possession a list of all soldiers who have died in this city since the establishment of the hospital. Persons desirous of seeing it, or knowing anything concerning their departed friends, can learn in regard to them by calling upon Mr. Wyatt.

HON. C. L. VALLANDIGHAM.—This gentleman from Ohio, who was ordered beyond the lines by order of General Burnside, arrived on a gunboat Friday night, but was left by the Nashville train yesterday morning. We learn that he will leave for Nashville on the train this morning.

SOLDIERS' HOME.—We are requested to give notice that Rev. Mr. McKee will officiate at the "Home" this evening. Services commence punctually at half-past four. Soldiers and their friends are cordially invited to attend.

WILL THE SUPERINTENDENT OF THE LOUISVILLE AND PORTLAND RAILROAD put new drivers, new rules, or a new running time on the route? Yesterday all the omnibuses on the line were going down the street. What's the matter?

ROBERT.—We learn that some adroit thief entered the parlor of Mr. Dickel's boarding-house, corner of Fifth and Market streets, yesterday, and robbed a drawer of $700 in Kentucky money.

DRESS PARADE.—The dress parade of the Twenty-fifth Michigan volunteer regiment will take place this evening, in the vicinity of the military prison, at 6 o'clock.

MONK REBELS.—The steamer Star Gray Eagle brought up 50 rebel prisoners from Henderson, yesterday, in charge of a squad of the Ninety-first Indiana regiment.

There was not a single military arrest or discharge from the military prison yesterday.

We are indebted to Mr. Wright for Cincinnati papers in advance of the mails.

CHEERING NEWS FROM BELOW!

Capture of Haines' Bluff!

We have the satisfaction of presenting to our readers this morning the first really cheering news we have had for months. Our dispatches state that General Grant has captured Haines' Bluff with a large number of prisoners, and fifty-seven pieces of artillery; and that there is every prospect that he will succeed in taking the entire rebel force in Vicksburg. The dispatch states that he has taken the entire works of Vicksburg, but we presume, it means the outer range of intrenchments between Haines' Bluff and Vicksburg. The fact that the battle was still raging evinces that Vicksburg has not yet been taken; but if the bluff is ours, the city must fall.

The only fear we have about this news is, as it comes from Memphis, via Washington, and is dated yesterday, that it is not so reliable as we could wish. Washington news has so often been falsified, that we prefer trusting information received from other directions. This, however, has such an official air, and is withal so probable, that we risk one gun on it anyhow. We await anxiously the confirmation of this joyous news, for it will virtually be the end of the war in the southwest.

P. S.—The midnight dispatches give us confirmation of the good news, and our readers have full permission to rejoice as much as they please, if it is Sunday.

WOOD'S THEATRE.—A new candidate for public favor—Mrs. Cecile Rath, of whom report speaks in the highest terms of praise—makes her first appearance before a Louisville public to-morrow evening, in the character of Bianca, in "The Italian Wife," supported by Mr. J. W. Albright and the entire company. The press of the Eastern cities, and lately in Cincinnati, where the lady has recently played a brilliant engagement, have spoken of her rendition of this character in terms of high commendation, especially praising her faultless elocution, and her classically beautiful face.

We trust our citizens, ever ready as they are to encourage native talent, will give her encouragement due for her merits by filling the theater to-morrow night. In addition to the tragedy, in Le Petit Alou executes a fancy dance, and the talented Bella Golden appears as Dan O'Neil in the farce of "The Irish Boy," introducing a variety of songs. We see by the underlining on the bills that the worthy stage manager, Mr. H. B. Phillips, announces his name for a benefit on Wednesday evening, and his indefatigable exertions to please, by producing every piece that has been brought out since the opening of the theater in a correct and elegant manner, independent of his acknowledged talents as an actor of old men, should insure him, what we hope he will have, a bumper.

The soldiers at Hospital No. 8 seem determined to make this a model hospital. They have whitewashed everything that will bear whitewashing, and cleaned everything that will bear cleaning, till the hospital seems like a place of recreation. Those who cannot be recreated in such a place as this might as well abandon hope. We have observed the soldiers carrying soda and bricks towards the hospital, and the result is shown in beautiful carpets around the seats, with paved walks from the street to the door of each tent. Through the exertions of the soldiers a beautiful bay waves over the hospital from a pole more than a hundred feet high. Such things as these must have a cheering effect upon the patients.

UNITED STATES OFFICER DROWNED.—Dr. Taylor, supposed to be surgeon of the Eighty-sixth Ohio volunteers, was drowned yesterday morning off the steamer Echo, just below Westport, on his way to Ohio. The captain informs us that he attempted to draw a bucket of water for his horse by throwing a bucket into the river with a rope attached, and, as too often happens to persons unacquainted with steamboating, was pulled overboard. The boat was stopped, and every effort was made to secure the body, but without success.

The doctor's horse and other effects were left with Royal Taylor, Esq., the Ohio agent.

EXTORTION.—The backmen of the city, or some of them, are beginning to practice their old tricks of extortion on travelers. The Council has adopted a resolution, one copy of which is furnished to every vehicle, and it is the duty of the police to see that these rates are prominently displayed in every hack running for hire in the city. We trust they will do so.

MORE REBELS.—About one hundred rebel prisoners, a great many of whom were wounded, were brought up on the train from Nashville last evening. Seventy-five of them were from Nashville and twenty-five from Bowling Green. Among the number was a Dr. Schell, who has been a surgeon in the Confederate army ever since the rebellion began. Most of them will be sent North.

MRS. MAGGIE MITCHELL.—This gifted young American actress has kindly consented to remain with us one week longer. To-morrow night Fanchon will be produced, in which she will introduce her celebrated shadow dance. She is the best Fanchon on the American stage. Go and see her.

A. Y. R.—We learn that the A. Y. R. Club contemplate giving a select and private picnic to the 28th inst., in Bray's woods. The managers know how to get up a picnic, and the young ladies know how to go and appreciate them.

WOOD'S THEATRE.—This popular place of amusement still continues to be filled with large and fashionable audiences. To-morrow night Mrs. Cecile Rath will make her appearance in the beautiful play of Fazio. Go and see her.

Merchants, planters and others in want of staple and fancy dry goods, will find the greatest variety and the cheapest goods at the large and extensive wholesale and retail house of Barker & Co., 317 Fourth street.

ALMOST A FIRE.—The roof of the kitchen of the Kentucky cavalry house caught fire from the adjoining house last evening. The water hose was attached at the time, which fortunately saved the house and an alarm.

About 8,000 soldiers (rebel and Federal) have died in the hospitals in this city since the breaking out of the rebellion.

A rebel soldier was arrested at the residence of Mr. Davis Friday. He belongs to the First Kentucky Infantry.

Woodworkers, &c., see the advertisement of Mr. H. Smith in another column.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL CLOTHING.—We direct the special attention of dealers, and all persons wanting men's, youths' and boys' clothing and furnishing goods, to the conspicuous advertisement of Messrs. Scott, Keen & Co., which will be found on the third page of this morning's issue. This firm has been established here since the latter part of the summer of 1852, and we have no hesitation in saying that they have, by their prompt and liberal way of doing business, done the largest wholesale and retail trade in this city. In the line of army officers' complete outfits, men's, youths' and boys' clothing and furnishing goods, they keep at all times a large stock, adapted to the season, and of the best style and qualities, such as under-shirts, drawers, cravats and ties in endless variety, linen shirts, carpet-bags, and, in fact, everything that can be found in any first-class clothing establishment. Mr. Davidson, one of the cleverest gentlemen we ever knew, is a number one business man, and offers great inducements to his customers. We advise all who want a single article, as well as those who desire a complete stock, to pay a visit to the house of Messrs. Scott, Keen & Co., southwest corner of Main and Sixth streets.

INQUEST NO. 110—Held May 23, 1863, at the Elm Tree Garden, on the body of a German, known only as Peter. Verdict—Came to his death from a wound in and upon the right side of the neck, inflicted sometime between 9 o'clock A. M., of May 21st, and 7 o'clock A. M. of May 23d, 1863, by some person or persons unknown to the jury.

INQUEST NO. 110—Held May 23, 1863, at the Elm Tree Garden, on the body of a German, known only as Peter. Verdict—Came to his death from a wound in and upon the right side of the neck, inflicted sometime between 9 o'clock A. M., of May 21st, and 7 o'clock A. M. of May 23d, 1863, by some person or persons unknown to the jury.

KEEP & MCGILL.—These gentlemen have recently opened one of the neatest, cheapest and most fashionable gentlemen's furnishing stores in the Western country. They have fitted up the corner room (ground floor) of the Galt House, and have laid in one of the best and most fashionable stock of goods that can be found anywhere in the city. They have a conspicuous advertisement in our paper to-day, to which we invite the attention of our readers. Messrs. K. & M. are both clever gentlemen to deal with, and we warrant all who deal with them to receive general satisfaction in every transaction. Give them a call, should you want anything in their line.

DECEASED SOLDIERS.—The following soldiers have died in this city during the week ending May 23, 1863: Miles Hunt, political prisoner. Geo. H. Barker, Henry's Battery. George Norris, co. I, 23d Ind. John Daily, co. F, 15th Ky. John Patterson, co. B, 58th Ill. John Rogers, co. D, 4th Tenn. James Thompson, co. F, 12th Ohio. Calvin Davis, co. B, 24th Ohio. James H. Prosser, co. Horace Burnett, co. B, 18th Ohio.

One of the finest stocks of blooded horses, mares and colts in the United States is owned by Mr. Elias Dorsey, in this country. A gentleman who is considered a judge of "horse flesh," from the North, paid his stables a visit a few days ago and expressed himself highly gratified with the stock and the excellent condition in which it is kept. The stable arrangements and facilities for exercising stock all make up one of the best arranged stables in the country.

PROBABLE MURDER.—Peter Huceler, formerly of the Fourth Kentucky Cavalry, was found at 9 o'clock Friday morning, in the canal, near Shippingport, a dying animal, with a terrible look on the side of his neck, covering it almost half in two. He was taken out of the water and cared for, and died Friday at 1 o'clock. It is said he boarded at the Elm Tree Garden.

FOR MEMPHIS.—The fine, fast and elegant steamer Tycoon leaves this morning for Memphis. Persons going in that direction will find a pleasant time on the Tycoon, in charge of our friend, and everybody's friend, Capt. Bacheller. Cropper, Patton & Co. are agents, of whom rooms can be obtained.

The government new steam bakery in Jeffersonville will be full and successful operation next week. It is partially so now, and we learn that it has turned out a tremendous supply of bread for the army. Quite a number of men and women are engaged in it.

A Mother Waiting for the News.
BY DAVID M. MCKINLEY.
How wearily the hours pass
Since through the smoky air
The lightning flashed the startling fact
That battle has been there.
There, where my noblest heart
The path of duty leads
There, where my noblest heart
While waiting for the news!

Wounded upon that rocky field,
Forsaken he may die,
Nor mother there to wet his lips,
Nor raise his head to life.
Disgraced, stained, his features marred
By many a scar and bruise,
And who can tell what mother's heart
While waiting for the news!

Ye wise men who have made this war
To make all mankind free,
Oh! know you not this joy of mine
Was all the world to me?
He is gone, what have I left?
What comfort can I choose?
A mother's heart consumed by grief,
While waiting for the news!

If I am wrong, oh God! forgive;
This throbbing heart and brain;
But who can justify this aim
If my poor boy is slain?
Yet, those whose sons are safe at home,
May take far different views.
And who can tell what mother's heart
While waiting for the news!

[Special to the Cincinnati Gazette.]
Cairo, May 22.
The City of Alton has just arrived from Memphis, making the run in twenty-one hours, forty-five minutes, the fastest time on record. She brings news from Jackson, Miss., to Sunday, the 17th, Grant's headquarters were in Jackson, that time all was going well. Innumerable amounts of rebel property had been destroyed, including the Statehouse and railroads. Rebels were being driven from the country and the position of the army, says Grant is perfectly secure; that he will strike for some point on the Yazoo, is highly probable. He had not evacuated Jackson, as has been reported, nor have the rebels wholly abandoned Vicksburg. The whereabouts of Pemberton is yet a mystery. Teams are constantly hauling supplies from Young's Point.

The town of Greenville, Mississippi, containing about four thousand inhabitants, is in ruins. Not a building is left standing. Price and Marmaduke are reported on White river, with seven thousand troops. The rebels are said to be putting a battery up at Friar's Point, on this Mississippi.

[Special Cincinnati Commercial.]
Rome, Ky., May 22.
The number of rebels around the Cumberland has no doubt been exaggerated. More than 10,000 men are reported to be in the region, leaving his command behind. Pegram's forces are this side of Monticello, and the remainder are distributed through Wayne and Clinton counties.

Last evening the number of rebels was considerably increased at Signal's Ferry. Our pickets were fired upon last night on the Mount Vernon road, supposed to have been done by bushwhackers. Two of Morgan's men were captured thirty miles down the river by the same number of the 23d Kentucky, and brought into camp yesterday.

Some of Chenail's command have recently crossed the Cumberland, somewhere in the vicinity of Long Bottom, at which place they were last seen. They were stealing horses, corn, and even cutting cloth from private looms.

New York, May 23.
The World's Washington dispatch repeats the assertion that Hooker is falling back on Washington. The New-Orleans correspondent of the World, dated the 12th, says Fort Hancock, bestricken this week; that during the late attack if it had been landed, they might have taken the fort.

There is no doubt it is or will be evacuated. It is expected that by to-morrow Banks will reach Bayou Sara from Alexandria, via Baton Rouge. Gen. Dudley is ready to march from Baton Rouge, and Farragut and Porter's fleets are above and below Port Hudson.

Cincinnati, May 23.
A special to the Commercial from Memphis dated the 22d, says Gen. Stanley, with a portion of two brigades of cavalry, surprised the camp of the 1st Missouri, and captured the cavalry in the vicinity of Middletown. Our forces were divided and sent around to attack in flank. The rebels were driven back, becoming impatient, dashed along and unsupported into the midst of the enemy's camp, putting the forces of one thousand cavalry to flight. It is reported that the rebels are preparing for an invasion of Kentucky, which will be made about the 1st of June.

The rebels yesterday burned the extensive textile work at Lexington, near Clarksville, Tennessee. The Gazette's Memphis dispatch gives rebel reports from the 20th. Gen. Sherman had evacuated Vicksburg, and marched out to attack Grant in the rear, while Johnston attacked him in front. The rebels anticipate a great battle there in a few days.

New York, May 23.
A Washington special to the Herald says that up to a late hour to-night nothing additional has been received from Grant. News of his movements, the capture of Jackson, although from rebel sources, is regarded by very favorable, and indicative of a speedy triumph.

The rebel papers are filled with gloomy and despondent articles on the position of affairs at Vicksburg. They constantly anticipate the worst from that quarter. The Richmond War is very severe upon the authorities for placing Pemberton in command.

The Tribune's Washington dispatch says information was received last evening that Grant's victories on Friday and Saturday were complete at every point. A correspondent writing from the army of the Potomac on the 21st, to the Tribune, says the rebels are in excellent condition. A movement is on foot either to cross the river and give us battle near that point, or else cross the Potomac and the Rappahannock station, drive in our forces in that direction and thus compel our army to change its base. They state that Lee feels about the rebel army in its present condition, and can easily drive us into the defenses around Washington or destroy or capture it. We will probably find himself mistaken.

The railroad to Richmond is reported in complete running order. Large numbers of officers are leaving on Thursday. Richmond papers of the 21st, contain details of the defeat of Pemberton, and the falling back of the entire rebel force northward. Johnston was expected to bring the rebel forces together to make a stand, but Grant pursued him so hotly he was unable to do so and was completely routed. Latest rebel dispatch says the Grant was on the point of attacking J. Johnston. Gen. Banks in a private letter expresses the expectation that he will soon be ready to enter the Union again, and this time as a free State.
